LUKE DENNEHY

Sisters' Cup secret

THE Kardashian sisters are headed to Australia and there is a chance they will be on track Melbourne Cup day.

Kim and Khloe will be in Sydney in the first week of November to launch their handbag and accessory line, the Kardashian Kollektion, but have Cup day off.

Khloe hinted that a trip to Melbourne might be on.

"I'm not allowed to tell you (if we're coming). I don't know, it's a secret, secret."

Ⓢ SOCCER star Harry Kewell will be Myer's big-name guest on Cup day.

The recently signed Melbourne Victory player is an ambassador for fashion label Politix. "I've never been ... but I know it's the race that stops the nation, so it should be a fantastic day."

Wife Sheree Murphy has also been invited, but it's not certain if she will make it because she will be heavily pregnant.

Myer is focusing on its local talent and its ambassadors including Jennifer Hawkins, Rebecca Judd, Kris Smith and Lauren Phillips for its guest list this year.

In previous years, international guests have included Liza Minnelli and Dame Edna Everage.

Ⓢ MODEL Miranda Kerr won't be in the David Jones marquee on Caulfield Cup day, but the DJs ambassador will still be promoting the store's clothes for the spring racing season.

Kerr and Heath Townsend star in the campaign.

With Kerr absent from Caulfield, Megan Gale will lead the way on track.

The Hollywood Hills is the inspiration for the DJs marquee and Donovan Cooke, from the Atlantic restaurant at Crown, will create the menu.

GRAHAM celebrates gay business

A new awards night has been added to Melbourne's gala GLBTIQ calendar with the Gay Retail and Hospitality Awards Melbourne, or GRAHAM.

Tom McFeely of the organising committee said the GRAHAMs will be a sit-down dinner awards night for gay venues and the hospitality industry. Half the night's profits will go to a community organisation with the remainder financing the next year's event.

Set to coincide with the Midsumma Festival the first GRAHAM award ceremony will take place on January 23, 2012 as a premier Midsumma event and will broadcast live on 94.9 JOY as well as filmed for Foxtel.

The first GRAHAMs will take place at The Peninsula event space in Melbourne's newly developed Dockland area.

A sneak launch for the GRAHAMs took place this month with a cocktail party at the Sketch on Central Pier at the Docklands.
